

Round 6: v 3 Kings Sea Cows @ Ghetto 6

HT: 0-2

FT: 2-2 (Marcus McDonough, Josh Thomas)

There had been some honest feedback on how the Div 3 KB's reports to date haven't been about the game whatsoever which I deny wholeheartedly. The weekend's Round 6 game demanded an accurate report as always. Of the whole day there were three plays that stood out for me.

The first play to excite me started off with Josh laying off an easy ball to Doug which Doug travelled with for a few metres before doing a one two with Laurie who was set up on the left with myself tucked in behind him open for a pass. Laurie dummied the pass to me then offloaded to Brad who made a run through the centre, sidestepping Marcus who had run a similar line but crossed Brad's weaving path. Brad snuck a ball through to Paddy who found space ahead but it was intercepted before Joe reclaimed the ball and gave a lofted pass back to Josh who had arced his way around the back of Phil and Doug. Swerving through the defenders, Josh played a beautiful ball to Marcus who chested it to Joe who took the snap shot but missed just wide of the warm up cones.

The second play that made my hairs stand up on the back of my neck began with a throw in from Laurie who I feel got away with a suspect foul throw. It wasn't called and Brad took this with his left, faked right, then left again then played a sublime back heel to Laurie who doubled around the back of Brad. Laurie then flicked the ball up onto his knee and juggled the ball (whilst moving I might add) over 8 times before dummy back flicking the ball back to Brad behind him who because of the speed of the ball had to arch his back in such a way that he fell onto his back and skilfully took the ball on the studded part of his boots and spun the ball around a`la circus bear for at least twenty seconds then lobbing the ball to Laurie who first time volleyed the ball back to Brad who lurched forward to take the ball securely in the back of his neck. All we could hear was a huge crack of bones as Brad completely did his lower back in.

The third and final stand out play in fact happened off the field when out of the blue a mountain biker sped behind our substitutes, skidded on the wet grass and went flying into the front wheel of a guy, parked up on his mountain bike. We were in a bit of shock at what we saw when the rider who got hit by the other rider, pulled out a plastic bag filled with Pick'n'Mix scroggin. We couldn't help but think they knew each other. I approached the rider who got crashed into by other rider and asked for a handful of scroggin to help with my energy. He opened up his rider's satchel and inside was about 8 bags of scroggin, filled to the brim. I told him to wait as I got my wallet and I purchased 4 bags of really good scroggin. I picked out all the little yoghurt bits before I gave them to the team.

It was a satisfactory day in Glen Innes. The team enjoys helping out in these types of areas and Player of the Day goes to Paddy who selflessly lent some kids his glue.
